

Hello, again.

Today we are going to tackle opposites.

Opposites attract, they say. True. However, we have a different kind of opposites in mind for today.

We are going to talk about adjectives and creating their opposite meanings by adding negative prefixes.

Negative prefixes?  Hmm. What's that? No worries. Just wait and see.

Look at the adjectives in the table.

dis	honest (pošten)	im	mature (zrel)
in	sincere (iskren)	dis	loyal (zvest)
ir	regular (običajen)	in	correct (pravilen)
il	legal (legalen)	un	happy (vesel, srečen)

If honest means “pošten”, what is the meaning of the word dishonest? “Nepošten”. Exactly. See?

It is not too difficult, right?

Now, by googling things up fill in the blanks with the right negative prefixes:

UN- IR- IM- IN- DIS- IL-

	possible		polite
	friendly		sensitive
	capable		practical
	patient		obedient
	logical		responsible
	expensive		comfortable
	formal		modest
	helpful		complete
	attractive		able

Don't forget to translate the adjectives into Slovenian. Remember, PONS online dictionary is your friend here.

Because we want you to be really good at English, here's one more thing we want you to do. Write the correct negative adjectives.

And copy the sentences into your notebooks.

1 I suspect Georg isn't an honest person. In fact, I think he's quite _____.

2 Very often Andrew doesn't behave in a responsible manner. He's quite _____.

3 This meeting isn't legal. It is _____.

4 Nick's not a very capable boss. He's _____ of making sound decisions.

5 These instructions aren't very practical. In fact, they're quite _____.

6 It's not possible to do this exercise. I think it is _____ to do the task.

7 Sarah doesn't like her new school. She doesn't know anyone. She's not happy here. In other words the girl's really _____.

8 He was punished for not being obedient. He was very _____ to his father.

If you feel like you need more practice, you can also do some exercises on this webpage.
